Show and Tell:

If you plan to attend via Zoom and want to show your orchids at the meeting, please send photos to Dan Williamson (dwillmsn-home@yahoo.com) and prepare to share. You may prepare a slide presentation or a display, and photograph it and talk about your various plants. If you would like your pictures to be in the next month's newsletter, send them to our email (penorchidsoc@yahoo.com) by the end of the second Friday of the month. Include the name and clear pictures.

Orchid Buds Assistant Program (Pacific Central Judging Center):

Pacific Central Judging Center (PCJC or Pac Central) is the local American Orchid Society (AOS) judging center. We have two regular monthly judgings as well as judging at local orchid shows and occasional outreach judgings at orchid societies meetings.

If you are interested in orchids, and would like to see and learn more about them, we invite you to join our judging team as a volunteer assistant. Your duties would be to assist the AOS judges with plant entry at the judging site, help move the plants to the judging tables, assist the photographer in photographing award winning flowers, help keep track of paperwork, and various other tasks as they come up. Only a small amount of training is needed. You will get a chance to see special orchids and get some ideas on how to spot them when shopping for your collection.

There are no specific time or attendance requirements for this volunteer commitment, only the desire to come to judging sessions, help out the judges, and learn about orchids.

Contact Chaunie Langland at (510) 364-2274 or paccentraljc@gmail.com for more information or to volunteer. Visit our website at www.paccentraljc.org and see what we do.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

DAN WILLIAMSON

I want to thank everyone that came out and helped at the fall Orchid Show and Sale at the Garden Center.

Ron Parsons, Onor Cheung and her 2 kids, Clarice Hampel, Susan Gutierrez, Anna Chai, Helena Wee, Catherine Obillo, Bill Weaver, Alex Cain, Mariko Nagashima, Leena Wang, Dennis Olivas, Mark Khoo, Steve Proschan, Janusz Warszawski, Tom Waugh, Chaunie Langland, Margaret Boomer, Olga Ostrovsky, Natalie Mutz, Paul Asente and probably more that I missed.

We could not hold the show without the support of all of our volunteers. I hope that volunteers had fun talking orchids with visitors, vendors and other volunteers. As Dennis said, attendance was a little discouraging, though it was encouraging to see people from Fresno, Modesto, Stockton, Sacramento, Santa Cruz and all over the Bay Area attending.

I hope that everyone got to browse the member sales table and the vendor tables and find some sought after or intriguing plants. I know that I bought more than I intended to, but I am thrilled with the plants that I got.

ORCHID TALK

Although I teach middle school kids for a living, one of my passions has always been plants. I began growing orchids as an offshoot from working at Longwood Gardens in Philadelphia just after college. From the very beginning it was all about Paphs, particularly awarded and select clones of historic importance, of which my collection numbers nearly 3000. While I love finding old, rare stepping stones in Paph breeding, I also do a little hybridizing of my own, and growing up my own babies is a blast. I am an accredited judge with the American Orchid Society, and have served in various capacities with various orchid societies in California and on the East Coast. I love meeting other people who like orchids too, and doing so often finds me traveling to shows, vendors, and peoples' greenhouses to see the latest and greatest in new hybrids and to get the best orchid gossip. I like to be involved in plants as much as possible: in addition to Longwood, I've worked at the Smithsonian Institution tending to their orchids, and for years for the United States National Arboretum, collecting rare plants and documenting cultivated species and hybrids for their herbarium. In short, I really like plants.

For your meeting, I'll be sharing a presentation on Holcoglossums: The Next Great Thing in Vandas. Holcoglossums are a relatively new genus to Vandaceous breeding, and they are already making a big splash: they are miniature, adaptable, and make great compact plants for windowsills or outdoors in Southern California. By combining Holcoglossums with basically every Vandaceous genus under the sun, we have been able to come up with some spectacular new combinations; in many cases, these are so new that they haven't even been named yet! This is truly cutting-edge breeding, and you will be amongst the first to see and appreciate these new directions in miniature Vandaceous plants for outdoor or windowsill growing here. By the end of this presentation, you will have a new appreciation of the range of plant habits, floral forms, and colors of Holcoglossum species and hybrids, as well as an appreciation of their lovely flowers and ease-of-growth.
